Deutsche Telekom's ICSS partners with RTX to provide Dynamic Voice Exchange (DVX)

Deutsche Telekom International Carrier Sales & Solutions (ICSS) has entered into a partnership with Routetrader Exchange (RTX) to deliver a new pay-as-you-go service: Dynamic Voice Exchange. DVX provides quick access to Deutsche Telekom's high-performance network, flexible configuration of voice interconnect and seamless connectivity to destinations around the world.

DVX is a smart, web-based voice platform. The new service simplifies the access to the global network of Deutsche Telekom and is integrated with RTX's innovative banking and billing infrastructure that keeps full cost control in the hands of customers. DVX features a secure, cash-management system that works with RTX's multi-currency banking infrastructure. By working with a top-rated international bank, customers have full access, control and visibility of their assets over a 24/7 cash management platform. Since funds are in place beforehand, clients only need to register – complicated and time-consuming contractual negotiations are eliminated. Within a matter of a few days customers can start sending traffic to any destination globally.

“As one of the leading carriers in the global wholesale voice market, Deutsche Telekom ICSS is committed to providing its customers with cutting-edge solutions,” said Mardia van der Walt, Senior Vice President International Carrier Sales & Solutions. “Our new Dynamic Voice Exchange is a fast, transparent and cost-effective voice termination service that helps our customers access the high-quality voice portfolio of Deutsche Telekom ICSS. Together with our partner RTX, we have developed an innovative solution that supports our clients to quickly and easily expand their international voice footprint while providing full cost control.”

“Utilizing RTX's globally unique, secure banking solution and fast on-boarding process, DVX is now the bridge between our new partner Deutsche Telekom and thousands of small operators around the globe,” added Miles Esfahani, Managing Director of RTX.
